A daring re-invention of a classic Theatre of the Absurd masterpiece!

"Dark, disturbing and ultimately brutal".

Eugène Ionesco intended The Lesson as a brutal criticism on Nazi fascism invading the peaceful hearts and minds of the people in his homeland, Romania. We twist the text to show how the world goes wrong today: A sense of tradition, honour, and respect is being replaced by capitalist greed and consumer righteousness... An elegantly subtle touch to a brutal script.

"A daring production by an energetic new company, the London-based Icarus Theatre Collective, it pulls no punches in its visceral pursuit of pure absurdism".

At the play's opening we find a mild mannered, scatty scholar teaching his bright-eyed bonne-élève student that 1+1=2. When the innocent pupil begins to displease the tutor, the pedagogue turns on her, becoming a bullying tyrant, a ferocious animal bent on her destruction.

An elegant classical score plays throughout the piece, reinforcing and enhancing the verbal ballet between the characters.

Subtle and powerful, comic and despairing by turns.

Young up-and-coming American director Max Lewendel recently directed Coyote Ugly ("An intense and wittily uncivilised evenings entertainment", Critics' Choice, Time Out) and Albert's Boy ("Theatre at its best", The Stage) as well as co-producing Gates of Gold (Critics' Choice, Time Out, Critic's Choice, Evening Standard).

The Lesson arrives at the Old Red Lion amidst a mid-scale tour including the Edinburgh Festival.
